

SNOQUALMIE FALLS

Looking to the Future

Puget Power has a federal license to operate the Snoqualmie Falls Hydroelectric Project. Currently, the company is applying to the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission for a new 40-year license. Proposals contained in the license application include increasing the project's power generating capability, expanding the site's recreational facilities, enhancing measures for flood prevention, protecting fisheries and wildlife, and preserving historical and cultural values. If you have questions regarding this license application, call Puget Power at (206) 454-6363 and ask for the Environmental Services Department.

Directions to the Falls

To reach the falls, take Interstate-90 east from Seattle to the Snoqualmie Falls exit (Exit 27). From there, follow signs taking you through the community of Snoqualmie to the falls.
